

ABSTRACT

This invention relates generally to carbon fiber produced from single-wall carbon nanotube (SWNT) molecular arrays. In one embodiment, the present invention involves a macroscopic carbon fiber comprising at least about 10^6 single-wall carbon nanotubes in generally parallel orientation.